WHLDP Program Manual

Introduction

The White House Leadership Development Program (WHLDP) aims to strengthen enterprise leadership across the government by providing senior level federal employees with expanded perspective and skillsets to address challenges facing the country. These increasingly complex challenges span agencies and jurisdictions, requiring senior leaders to work across agencies and organizational boundaries while leveraging networks on a greater scale than in the past to ensure the government continues to effectively deliver services to the American people.

The program is primarily focused on:

- Developing Talent: Building the next generation of career senior executives with an enterprise perspective through a placement focused on the complex, cross-agency challenges that increasingly confront the Federal government and strengthening enterprise leadership skills through targeted development sessions.
- Delivering Results: Harnessing top talent from across the government to support implementation of key priorities and address mission-critical challenges.

The goal of the program is to build a cadre of government leaders with strong inter-agency experience and exposure to a broad cross-section of government. Fellows work on challenging, cross-agency initiatives to develop the skillsets and networks that enterprise leaders need: a whole-of-government perspective, stakeholder collaboration and engagement, working across boundaries without formal authority, and working outside traditional agency structures.

The WHLDP requires Fellows to leverage their skills to drive progress on mission-critical programs (such as the Cross-Agency Priority Goals) and deliver long-term strategic results. The program works closely with cross-government performance teams to allow Fellows to develop a deeper understanding of the importance of organizational performance, measuring impact and delivering results, identifying new ways of doing business and embracing innovation, and focusing on outcomes and effective service delivery.

Program Overview

The WHLDP is sponsored by the Executive Office of the President (EOP) and the President's Management Council (PMC) and supported by the Performance Improvement Council (PIC). It is a 1-year placement with weekly development programming. WHLDP Fellows will each be placed in a placement assignment that is largely outside the Fellow's subject matter expertise.

The WHLDP provides an opportunity for a diverse cohort of high-potential career employees to develop enterprise leadership skills as they seek to become future Senior Executives. Fellows spend approximately 80 percent of their time in a placement assignment gaining on-the-job experience. Fellows spend approximately 20 percent of their time in leadership development programming built around the stakeholders, networks, and skillsets that senior leaders need in an enterprise environment.

This manual provides more information on the program's nomination and selection process, development component, placement assignments, and post-program activities. Appendix A contains answers to Frequently Asked Questions.

Program Objectives

- Provide Fellows with a broad federal perspective on high-priority challenges and access to senior decision-makers with exposure to a wide cross-section of government
- Develop a cadre of leaders with the skillsets and networks to address challenges through a cross-agency lens and implement solutions across organizational boundaries

Agency Nominations

Interested agencies may nominate up to six candidates. Agencies will determine their own internal processes to select nominees as long as such processes are competitive and follow applicable laws and regulations.

The Deputy Secretary of the agency or equivalent will formally nominate candidates to the program. The agency should provide the nominees and completed nomination form directly to the WHLDP. Agencies should ensure that the nominees' direct supervisors are notified of their subordinates' nominations. For more information on the nomination process, selection criteria, and forms, see the separate White House Leadership Development Program Nomination Guide.

Self-Nominations

Candidates who are interested in self-nomination will go through a vetting process from the WHLDP leadership team. The WHLDP will put forward a maximum of 6 candidates from each agency for interviews. For agencies interested in taking part in the pilot process of self-nominations per supervisor approval, please confirm at whldp@gsa.gov.

A diverse group of individuals will be selected to participate in the program from the pool of nominees.

Selection Process

After reviewing formal nominations from agencies, and nominees vetted by WHLDP team, the program implements a rigorous selection process to determine program finalists. The WHLDP will extend acceptance invitations to between 10 and 20 finalists. All candidates will be notified of their status via e-mail at the conclusion of the selection process. Agencies will also be formally notified of their candidates' status.

Placements

In order to be accepted to the program, candidates will interview with placement supervisors. Those that match with a placement assignment will be accepted to the program. Assignments are high-visibility initiatives that touch multiple agencies and stakeholders with the Fellows driving cross-agency coordination, innovation, implementation, and performance management. Specific projects vary depending on the placement assignment.

Fellows are matched to a placement assignment that leverages broad skillsets outside of the Fellows' areas of subject matter expertise. placements are not meant to increase technical expertise but rather to provide an opportunity to use leadership and collaboration skills.

Past placements include: (Note: these are not guaranteed to be the same assignments for new cohorts)

Cross-Agency Priority Goals

The Fellow Experience

WHLDP placements are challenging assignments that expose Fellows to new cultures, new approaches, a whole-of-government perspective, and an enterprise leadership toolkit. Fellows are placed on cross-agency initiatives with no formal authority and a variety of stakeholders and competing priorities to manage. Fellows may experience:

Flat Structures – Most placements are situated in small offices with flat organizational structures (not typical chain of command), flexible roles, and a fast pace. Fellows will work on multiple levels (doing whatever work needs to be done – no task is too small) to achieve results.

Leading Among Peers – Due to flat organizational structures and cross-agency stakeholder management, Fellows will coordinate and collaborate among peers and senior level officials. These are often non-traditional leadership roles that require flexibility, entrepreneurship, and vision.

Stakeholder Management – Fellows will often not have formal authority nor will they be in placements where they can fall back on their subject matter expertise. In order to achieve results, Fellows will have to identify stakeholders, build relationships/trust and understand competing priorities and timelines, and work through formal and informal chains of communication to drive collaboration toward a shared goal/outcome.

New Cultures – Fellows will be asked to represent their cross-agency initiative and become comfortable with new cultures and ways of doing business.

WHLDP Program Manual

Cross-functional – Fellows will be placed in placements outside of their subject matter areas of expertise in order to encourage the development and use of leadership skills and tools. This includes taking on new functional roles and leveraging subject matter experts in a variety of fields.

Placement Competencies – Fellows must rely on a variety of competencies including emotional intelligence, adaptability, resiliency, agility, political savvy, conceptual/strategic thinking and collaboration.

Development Program

Fellows participate in a variety of developmental activities, typically spending up to eight hours per week as a cohort.

Development Objective: Provide exposure to the business practices, functional areas, networks, skills, and stakeholders that enterprise leaders need to leverage in order to deal with a rapidly changing environment and increasingly cross-agency, cross-jurisdictional challenges. Appendix A: Frequently Asked Questions

What happens to the Fellows after the program?

Participants may return to their prior position within their home agencies or another placement they seek out. Agencies are also encouraged to find other opportunities within the agency for the Fellow to leverage his or her experience as a WHLD Fellow, including a new position, project, or other opportunities to extend experience gained during the placement to applicable agency goals.

Following the end of the program and return to their home agencies, Fellows can choose to stay connected to the WHLDP network through:

- Alumni activities – From mentoring the next cohort of Fellows to alumni events and trainings, Fellows can maintain and expand their network of leaders across government and development activities.

- Database of participants – The WHLDP will create and maintain a database of alumni to facilitate post-program networking and future alumni events.

Who will pay the Fellow's salary?

This is a non-reimbursable placement. Therefore, the Fellow's home agency will pay his or her salary.

Where will the Fellow be located?

The Fellow will be co-located with the EOP Lead, CAP Goal Leader, or the Goal Team to maximize the experiential learning opportunity. This may be at an EOP office or agency, depending on the goal and the specific work the Fellow will be doing. Additionally, participants will meet for development sessions in the New Executive Office Building, the Eisenhower Executive Office Building, or the General Services Administration, depending on the agenda.

Will the Fellow have to/get to travel?

Generally, no. There may be some travel within Washington, DC. If the host agency would like the participant to travel as part of the placement assignment, the host agency must fund the travel.

Does the Fellow have to be located in Washington, DC?

The placement work assignment will be located in Washington, DC. In the second year of the program, three Fellows came to the program from out of the area. Should an agency nominate candidates from outside of the Washington, DC area, the agency will fund associated travel/relocation expenses if the candidate is selected for the program.

Is this a Candidate Development Program?

No – this is a developmental placement and may qualify as the developmental assignment requirement of a CDP. However, the program is also open to qualified candidates who are not in a CDP.

Does the placement qualify as a CDP developmental assignment?

The placement assignment is non-supervisory. As long as the Fellow has a strong supervisory background, the placement should satisfy CDP requirements. Candidates should check with their agency CDP coordinator to ensure it meets all applicable requirements.

Will the Fellow's position be executive level?

The White House Leadership Development Program placements are meant to build a foundation for enterprise leadership – giving a Fellow experience working on cross-agency initiatives at a larger scale and outside of their agency perspective. The Fellow is often one of the only full-time people to work on the cross-agency initiative and is not in a traditional leadership role with clear authority. Additionally, many of the positions are housed in small teams that do not have support staff. Fellows work all aspects of the program to drive the mission and are not set up to be in a traditional chain of command leadership position.

If a Fellow is using the program as their placement for a CDP, the Fellow's position must be executive level. Typically, positions are at the GS-15 level and may not meet CDP requirements.

WHLDP Program Manual

However, each placement provides significant exposure to senior leaders, the ability to learn and apply new organizational performance tools, and the opportunity to engage in high-level work on a large cross-agency scale. Fellows have the ability to help craft their positions and identify ways to add vision, value, and leadership to complex, cross-agency challenges, and the experience and type of work is largely Fellow-driven.

Will Fellows be promoted as a result of or at completion of this program?

This program does not guarantee promotion or entry into the SES or any other position. However, it provides development and experience that may help the Fellow obtain such a position in the future.

What will happen to the Fellow's home position while on placement?

The WHLDP is a non-reimbursable developmental placement. As such, the Fellow will retain his or her position at his or her home agency and will be allowed to return to that position at the conclusion of the placement. However, nothing prevents the Fellow from assuming a different position following the program placement should the Fellow seek out such an opportunity or the agency engage in a structured talent development plan with the Fellow.

Is a security clearance required?

No. Fellows do not need to possess a certain clearance level for this program. Should a clearance become necessary, agencies will be alerted to this change before formal nominations are due.

Who will conduct the Fellow's performance review?

The Fellow's home agency supervisor will conduct formal performance reviews, but the placement assignment supervisor will provide feedback to the Fellow's home agency supervisor and will work with the Fellow to create a performance plan based on the placement assignment. The placement assignment supervisor will also provide feedback to inform the final performance review at the end of the 1-year placement.

How will the performance of the WHLDP be assessed?

The WHLDP will have several levels of evaluation built in during the 1-year development placement. To assess the development of the Fellows, individual Fellows will receive a self-assessment at the beginning of the program and a follow-up assessment at the conclusion of the placement. For organizational performance, Fellows will be given five to seven CAP Goal or other project objectives for the duration of their placement that will be used to assess individual and organizational progress and outcomes on CAP Goals or projects. These measures combined will be used to determine overall programmatic performance.

What happens if the placements assignment is not a good fit with the Fellow or the Fellow cannot complete the program for personal/work reasons?

The WHLDP Program Director will meet regularly with Fellows to check in on their progress and fit with the developmental and placement pieces of the program. The Director will also receive feedback from placement assignment supervisors. Should the placement assignment not be a good fit with the Fellow, the Program Director will work with the Fellow to identify a new placement assignment.

WHLDP Program Manual

Should the Fellow be unable to complete the program for personal or professional reasons, the Fellow must notify the Program Director as soon as possible. The Program Director will work with the Fellow and host supervisor to ensure that any work with which the Fellow was involved is transitioned and that necessary stakeholders are briefed on the status of the project. The Fellow's slot will not be refilled mid-program.

Appendix B: Post Detail Re-Entry to Home Agency Best Practices

Placements are recognized as a way to build executive skills, improve flexibility, and create new ideas. The following are best practices of how agencies and Fellows can make the most of this experience:

- For Fellows: Stay engaged throughout the year. Quarterly check-ins with supervisors on how the program is going is a great start.
- For Agencies: Encourage fellows to utilize the tools and newfound knowledge at their home agency.

Promising Practices

As the WHLDP partners with agencies, several promising practices have come to light. These are shared as options that agencies nominating candidates to the program may consider in developing re-entry plans.

- Identify a career sponsor for the Fellow – this should be a senior executive from the Fellow's home agency (not necessarily a mentor) who can help facilitate introductions to other agency executives, engage senior leadership, and help ensure the Fellow has a touch point and stays visible at the home agency.
- Create a link between home agency executive sponsor and Fellowship executive supervisor so the latter has a good idea of the executive level work that the Fellow did while on placement.
- Assign a mentor or executive coach (outside of supervisory chain) to the Fellow at the home agency and consider inviting the Fellow to CDP or other developmental sessions as appropriate.
- Create a utilization agreement to be completed by home agency and Fellow post-acceptance into the program. The agreement should lay out who from the agency will reach out to the Fellow to stay connected, what that frequency will be, what the Fellow can do to stay connected, and how the agency will utilize the Fellow's experience post-placement.
- Set up briefings with senior executives in the home agency that have interest in or are stakeholders in the placement issue area.
- Set up a briefing with the home agency Deputy Secretary or other senior officials as appropriate.
- Create a tie for the Fellow to the Executive Resources office.
- Have a re-entry plan in place two months before the Fellow's placement ends.
